Customs Agent Authorisation

How to authorise Lantia Marítima as your customs representative with the Spanish Tax Agency (AEAT).

CUSTOMS CLEARANCE AUTHORISATION

What is it and what types are there?

A clearance authorisation is a document by which an importer or exporter authorises a Customs Representative to file one or more customs declarations on its behalf. It also covers representation in customs inspections, tariff classification disputes, refund claims for undue payments, penalty proceedings, etc.

Per-operation authorisation

Allows the Customs Representative to clear and represent the client in a single operation, identified in the authorisation by the commercial invoice of the international sale.

Global authorisation · recommended

Allows the Customs Representative to represent the client in all operations and procedures before Customs, indefinitely until revoked. It is usually signed for any customs office that may be used.

Global authorisations are ideal because they make clearance faster. Otherwise, for every export or import clearance the client must provide a new signed authorisation.
